How the signals are extracted

Marketplace Rebound Signal Search - United States

Short View

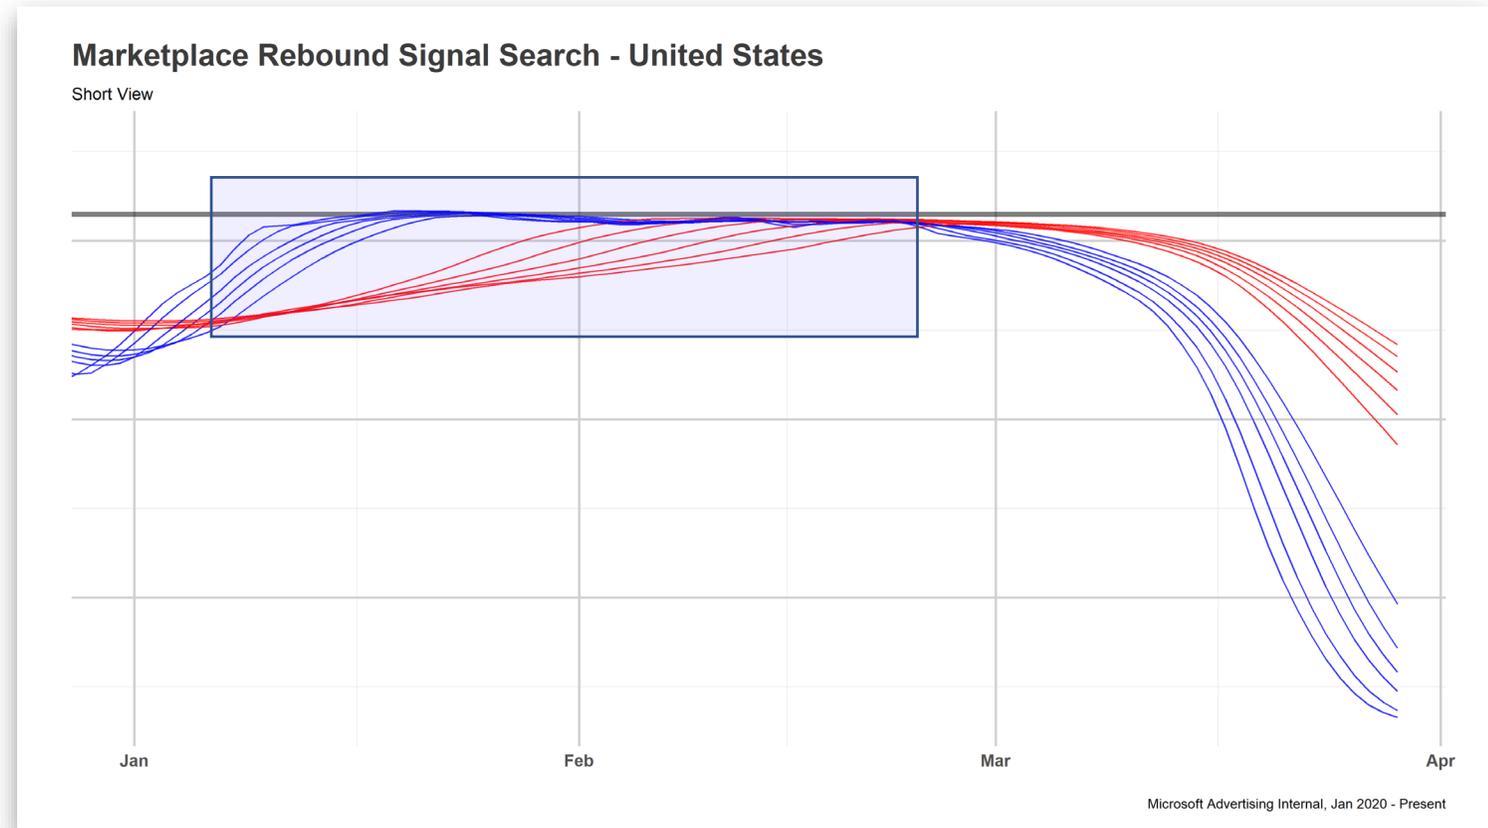

Signal:

Here our cluster of shorter-term moving averages has consolidated around the estimated line of normality, pulling latent longer-term moving averages with it

When there is a period with all six short-term moving averages above all six long-term moving averages, this a confirmed market uptrend

Signal:

In this example, we see all six longer-term moving averages floating above all six shorter-term moving averages suggesting a downtrend

However, the shorter-term moving averages begin to reverse course, and move back through the longer-term moving averages. This is an indication that the marketplace is possibly turning around, and a good opportunity for advertisers to re-enter.

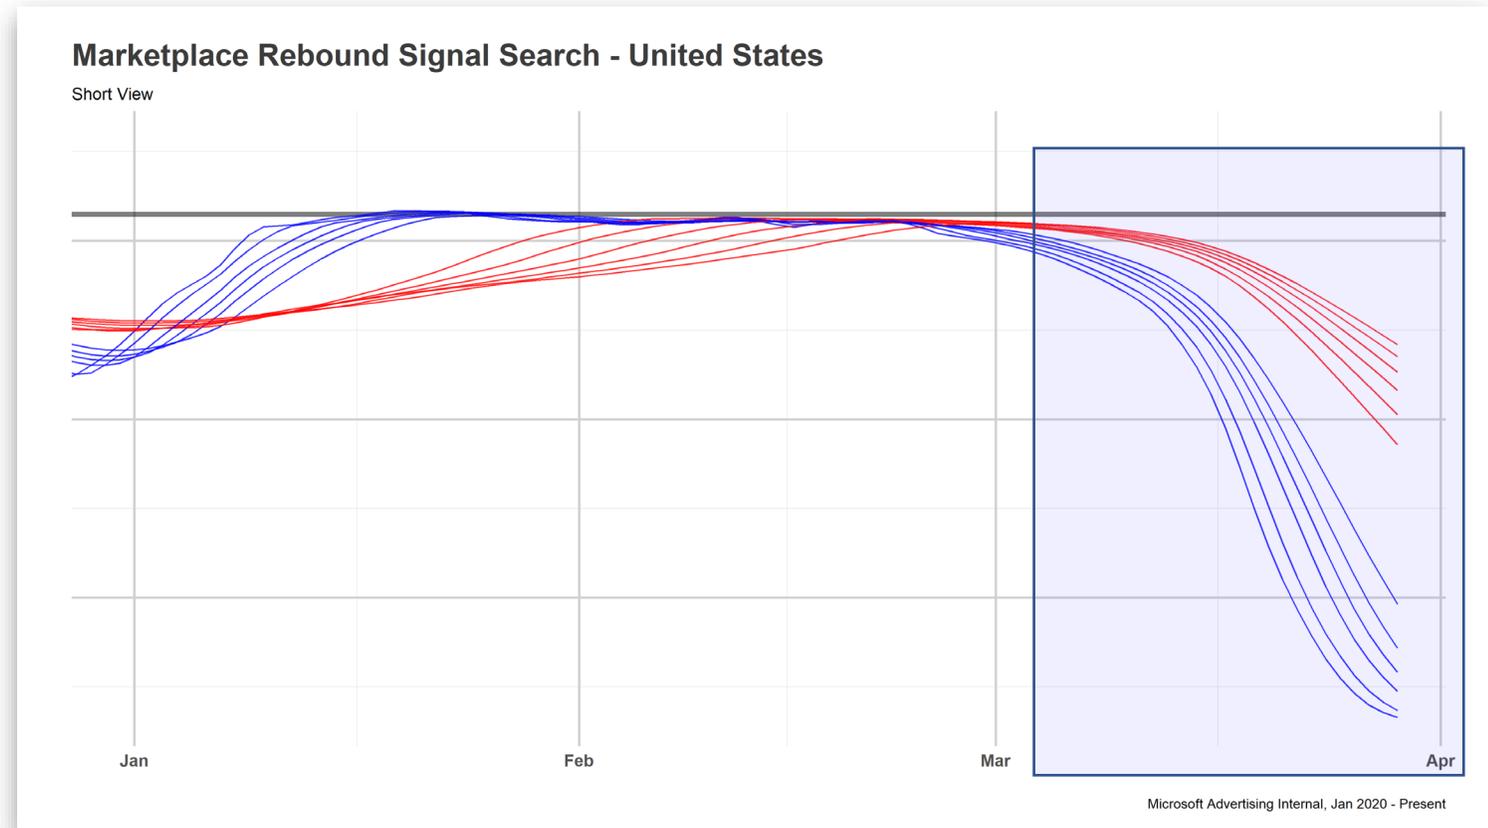

Signal:

In this example, there is a clear negative gap between the long-term moving averages and the short-term moving averages, and that gap is increasing

When the cluster of short-term averages demonstrates behavior in the opposite direction, it will be time to think about a yellow signal. Until then, this is firmly a downtrend

What comprises the marketplace index?

Marketplace index is a composite metric built to reflect the following behaviors:

A primer on how moving averages* (MA) work

Date	Value
3/20	500
3/21	650
3/22	700
3/23	400
3/24	250
3/25	300
3/26	425
3/27	500
3/28	525
3/29	700
3/30	650
3/31	825
4/1	900

A simple moving average calculates the average of a selected range of values. For instance, the 3-day moving average for the date of 4/1 would be the average of the attendant values for the dates of 4/1, 3/31, and 3/30.

* Values are arbitrary and used to illustrate the concept
